

We make artisanal bar games that feel like a pastime from a past time.

Unplugged Arcade is building a new category of games for social spaces. By blending timeless craftsmanship with modern game design and product innovation, we create screen-free entertainment for today's venues and audiences.

Dan Winger was creative lead on LEGO's digital innovation team and the only LEGO Master Designer in the U.S. After 18 years of designing the future of play, he's now reimagining its past.

He's on a mission to build locally handcrafted games that should have existed a hundred years ago. Games that bring people together to play, laugh, and cheer... and make friends the old-fashioned way.

Ladies and gentlemen, step up to the plate with Unplugged Arcade's debut title: Baseball Shuffle.

A fast, all-ages, dice-flicking mashup of baseball and shuffleboard, played on a handcrafted wooden ballpark for 2-16 players. Balancing skill and luck, every flick delivers wild twists, big plays, and the thrill of baseball like you've never seen before.

And the best part? Your drinks are part of the game.
